

CHRISTOPHER

Christopher loves being outside! If you like bike rides, swimming, fishing, going to the zoo, and flying kites, you have much in common with Christopher. Christopher is interested in caring for small animals and would love to live in an adoptive home with animals. He likes dragons and reading fantasy fiction.

He thrives in small groups with both consistency and structure. He has a traumatic brain injury, ADHD, and requires continuing therapy to help with behavioral concerns and his past trauma.
