

DE'ANGELICE

12/12/2008

Dee (De'Angelice) is an active, curious, caring young lady in need of a forever family. She responds well to structure and consistency. She would do well with a caregiver who understands her anxiety and provides support and consistency. At times, she can be stubborn, but once she takes the time to warm up to people, her personality shines! She has several important people in her life, so her ideal forever family would be willing to help her retain these connections. Additionally, Dee should be the youngest child in the home.

She loves playing
